Complete Market Reports Corrected Every Day Giving the Wholesale Prices of Commodities, Farm Produce and Vegetables.

PORTLAND, Feb. 11.—The week has been noted for scarcity of live chickens, and today cold storage fowls are largely in evidence with the retail dealers uptown. A good market is promised next week by prominent commission men, who report uptown stocks entirely depleted. In this connection, Turner & Company say in their circular: "Turkeys are short and good stock with ducks fancy prices; same with geese. Geese are slow sale. The season is about over, and we advise careful buying. There is an extra good demand for broilers, and squabs and young pigeons will sell readily."

Dressed veal, pork and mutton have also been at a premium all the week, according to Telf & Co., who reports a great many calves as coming in, but still not enough to supply the demand.
